

READING TEACHER

Summary

I am a highly motivated educator and self-starter with a passionate commitment to learners and their success and growth. I am accountable and thorough with a history of sound decision-making and innovative skills that have helped a plethora of teachers and students succeed.

As a professional educator with an extensive background in student success, I am also a certified Life and Success Coach.

I look forward to extending my expertise to the teachers and staff at Van Buren Middle School. I believe that student success is inevitable with competent, passionate, "all in" teachers that will stand by their side inspiring productivity and essentially life long learners..
